

TWENTY-FIVE BLOCKS OF HOUSTON SWEEP BY FIRE

FLAMES STARTING IN RESIDENCE DISTRICT AT MIDNIGHT SPREAD TO FACTORY DISTRICT.

LOSS IS FIVE MILLION

Thousands of People are Homeless but Are Being Cared For—Cotton Companies Are Heavy Losers.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Houston, Tex., Feb. 21.—Impelled by a fierce gale from the north, fire ran rampant through the eastern section of this city today, destroying property valued at several millions of dollars and rendering homeless more than one thousand persons.

Several large manufacturing plants were burned down, scores of homes were razed by the flames and several lumber yards, cotton warehouses and compresses were wiped off the earth.

Sweeps Twenty-five Blocks.

Not less than twenty-four city blocks now are in ashes. The losses conservatively are estimated at from five to six million dollars. The greater part of this is confined to the lumber and cotton industries. Forty-five thousand bales of cotton stored in warehouses and compresses were burned. This alone represents a loss of two million dollars.

Started in Cottage.

The fire started in a cottage near the Southern Pacific railway tracks a little while after midnight. Its origin has not been definitely established.

A roaring wind picked up the flames and hurried them to neighboring cottages and boarding houses. In a flash these structures were ignited, spouting great columns of sparks.

Wind Spreads Flames.

Solving those two and three blocks and within an hour after the fire broke out a great area of small residences was in flames. The fire spread rapidly to manufacturing plants near the cottages and boarding houses in which hundreds of working men lived.

The flames spread so rapidly that firemen for the time abandoned attempts to check the flames and devoted their energies to warning householders. Possible loss of life was thus averted.

Make Final Stand.

At the big manufacturing plants and cotton compresses city firemen and volunteers had organized to fight the on-rushing flames. An hour after the fire began its advance the firemen organized for a final stand at Buffalo Bayou, a small stream which divides the eastern part of the city from the main section. As the crackling flames swept along towards the bayou banks, hundreds of streams of water were thrown into them.

Flames Leap Stream.

At some of the narrower portions of the stream, however, the flames leaped across and for a while it seemed the city was doomed, but the more substantial buildings did not afford the tinderlike fuel previously encountered. The fire-fighters had won their desperate battle.

Thousands of persons were driven from their homes and in the cold and the relentless north wind they suffered from exposure.

Relief Work Begun.

Relief work at once set on foot. Many persons were hurt during the night with the flames, but so far as can be ascertained there were no casualties.

The burned area is at least a mile and a half long and at points a quarter of a mile wide. It was swept clean. Nothing was saved.

Driven From Homes.

The flames' roar gave warning of their coming. Hundreds of persons fled only in night attire, rushed frantically into the streets seeking personal safety. They left everything behind. Women carrying babies and children in their arms fled in homes of neighbors for refuge only to be driven out a few minutes later by the pitiless flames.

No Casualties.

Twenty-five squares in the residence district have been destroyed by fire that broke out here soon after midnight.

There has been no casualties so far as is known. Thousands of people are homeless. The weather is cool, but there is little suffering.

At nine o'clock a conservative estimate of the loss was given as five million dollars involving many factory buildings.

Many Factories Burned.

Several manufacturing plants have been destroyed. Among the mills and factories either totally destroyed or seriously damaged are: The McAdams Southern Compress & Warehouse Company; J. H. Brown, Syrup Mills; Houston & Lippert Lumber Company; The Houston Paint Company; Houston Packing Co., slightly damaged; E. H. Hall Lbr. Co.; Standard Compress Co.; The Cooperative Manufacturing Co.; Acme Mill; St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church and school operated in conjunction with the church.

A Later List.

A later list of factories destroyed included: The Cleveland Compress and Cotton Pickery; McElhenny cotton pickery; Texas Timbers Supply Company; Industrial Rice Milling Company; plant; Southwestern Rice Company's mill; Hooper Vinegar Company's plant; and a number of lesser mills.

Stock in several of these companies is owned by eastern promoters. The loss of the 50,000 bales of cotton destroyed the Standard Compress and thirty-six Southern Pacific cars loaded

TRAIN ROBBERY WAS ATTEMPTED IN IOWA

Five Bandits Make Unsuccessful Effort to Hold up Cedar Northwestern Mail at Cedar Rapids.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Feb. 21.—Five men made an unsuccessful attempt to hold up the West Bound train, number nine, on the C. & N. W. Railroad near Bertram, a village nine miles east of here, at three o'clock this morning. The train is known as the fast mail and carries no passengers.

It was forced to slow down to a speed of four miles an hour on account of construction work on the outskirts of the village and it was at this point the men signalled the engineer to stop. Suspicious of the irregular methods of signalling, the engineer did not bring his train to a stop.

When the train failed to stop, one of the bandits opened fire on the engine and all speed the engineer brought his train to this city where a posse was formed and started in pursuit of the bandits.

THREATENED STRIKE OF ENGLISH MINERS CAUSES SUFFERING

Conditions Rapidly Becoming Serious in Regard to Coal Situation—Prices Already Take Advance.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, Eng., Feb. 21.—Conditions throughout Great Britain are becoming rapidly worse as the result of the threatened coal strike which, if it occurs at the end of the month, will throw 800,000 men, employees of factories and mines, out of employment. At many of the iron works and other big factories, the men received notices from the employers that their services would not be required after Feb. 20th, should the coal-factories be decided upon. Most of the factories have a sufficient supply of coal for the most urgent work on hand.

Coal Owners Meet.

In London and other cities the price already has reached $8.00 the poorer people paying almost double the rate as they purchase in small quantities. The coal owners met in conference to consider the general situation in the country and also to discuss the invitation of Premier Asquith who has requested them to meet with himself and some of his colleagues at the foreign office to arrange a basis for settlement. Both sides own and miners signalled their acceptance of Premier Asquith's invitation to the conference.

The committee of the international miners' federation at their meeting today decided to add their British comrades in event of a strike.

Seek American Coal.

New York, Feb. 21.—The threatened coal strike in England has caused numerous inquiries to be made here from English relatives to the possibility of obtaining American coal at Norfolk for Gibraltar. Should the English coal strike materialize, coal prices in this country will run high, coal trade men say.

This situation is further complicated by the pending negotiations between the operators and miners' union. The present agreement comes to an end March 31st, and miners have given notice that they will demand an increase in wages. At the present moment the negotiations are said to be progressing favorably.

TO CONSIDER EFFECT OF ISTHMIAN CANAL

Pacific Northwest Immigration, Convention Opened at Tacoma Today—Anticipate Great Influx.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 21.—Under the title of the Pacific Northwest Immigration convention there was opened in this city today the first important conference that has been held to consider the effects of the opening of the Panama canal upon the future development of this section of the United States and the Pacific coast section of Canada. The conference will be in session two days and is being held under the joint auspices of the commercial bodies of Tacoma and the industrial department of the Y. M. C. A. The conference is based on the assumption that with the completion of the canal across the Isthmus, the flood of European immigration to the Pacific coast will equal the present volume at Atlantic ports. The problem of how best to take care of this prospective influx of foreign settlers with a view to the welfare of both the newcomers and the country is regarded as a serious one. Lacking the great industrial centers which in the eastern states readily absorb the immigrants, it is believed that the best solution of the problem for the Pacific Northwest will be to devise ways and means for locating the newcomers in the agricultural communities.

WORK IN SENATE IS CONGESTED TODAY

Passage of the Chemical Revision Bill Adds to Troubles of Upper House.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Feb. 21.—With the passage of the chemical revision bill by the House today another demoralizing calendar was added to the senate calendar. The steel bill is pending in the senate where only a coalition of progressive republicans and the democrats can pass it.

The intention of the senate finance committee, whose hearing on the House steel bill is now drawing to a close, is to grant ample latitude to all parties interested in the tariff bills sent over from the House. Hearings on the steel bill probably will be concluded by the end of this month, being continued today with the testimony of representatives of the lead interests.

The republican members of the senate finance committee have had one conference. They have not definitely outlined their tariff program but it is believed the debate on the steel and the other revision measures will be protracted.

The illness of Senator La Follette has interfered seriously with the formulation of policy by the progressive republican senators who hold the balance of power and so far there have been no real overtures between them and the democratic leaders.

For the first time since the insurance republicans broke away from the regulars in the fight on the petroleum duties in the Payne Tariff bill in 1909 the republicans of the house today presented practically a solid front against the passage of a tariff revision bill. All republicans voted with the regular republican forces against the Underwood chemical tariff which was passed last year by a vote of 178 to 129.

The house today voted a resolution on a ground that it was a revision upward instead of downward. "The bill has no support from the independent voters in the house because it is a rank case of upraise revision," said representative Victor Murdock of Kansas, leader of the insurgents. "It would take scores of articles from the free list and put duties upon them. It is indefensible."

Representative Theron Alden of New York who was elected to Congress as an independent republican voted for the measure as did also Mr. Hanna of North Dakota, a regular republican. Representative Berger, Wisconsin socialist, voted against it. All democratic members of the house voted for the bill.

An investigation of the charge which led to the senatorial removal of adjutant Ainsworth was authorized today by the house committee on military affairs favorably reporting the Watkins resolution requiring secretary of war to submit to congress all documents being on the alleged insubordination.

ROOSEVELT MAKES PLAIN TALK WITH MUCH POLITICS

FORMER PRESIDENT GIVES ADDRESS AT OHIO CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Columbus, O., Feb. 21.—"Big Business," the fitness of the American people for self-government, the recall of judges, and praise for the progressive legislation in Wisconsin instituted and furthered by Senator Robert M. La Follette when he was Governor, were topics discussed by Theodore Roosevelt in an address today before the Ohio Constitutional Convention here. Colonel Roosevelt chose as his subject, "A Charter of Democracy."

Of what he termed "Big Business," Colonel Roosevelt had this to say: "The anti-trust law does good insofar as it can be invoked against combinations which really are monopolies or which restrict production or which artificially raise prices. But in so far as its workings are uncertain or as it threatens corporations which have not been guilty of anti-trust conduct it does harm. There should be a fixed governmental policy which shall clearly define and punish wrongdoing and give in advance full information to any man as to just what he can and just what he cannot legally and properly do."

As to the fitness of the American people for self-government, Colonel Roosevelt said: "Many eminent lawyers believe that the American people are not fitted for popular government and that it is necessary to keep the judiciary independent of the majority of the people. I take absolute issue with all those who hold such a position."

Of the recall of judges, he said: "The question is one of expediency merely. Each community has the right in whatever shape it pleases, to do not believe in adopting the recall save as a last resort when it has become clearly evident that no other course will achieve the desired result."

Senator La Follette was mentioned but once as follows: "Following Senator La Follette a number of practical workers and thinkers in Wisconsin have turned that state into an experimental laboratory of wise governmental action in aid of social and industrial justice. They have initiated that kind of progressive government which means not only the preservation of true democracy but the extension of the principle of true democracy in industrialism as well as into politics."

Colonel Roosevelt said in part: "I hold it to be the duty of every servant, and of every man who in public or in private life holds a position of leadership in thought or action, to endeavor honestly and fearlessly to guide his fellow-countrymen to right decisions; but I emphatically dissent from the view that it is either wise or necessary to try to devise methods which under the constitution will automatically prevent the people from deciding themselves what governmental action they deem just and proper."

It is impossible to invent constitutional devices which will prevent the popular will from being effective for wrong without also preventing it from being effective for right. The only safe course to follow in this great American democracy is to provide for making the popular judgement really effective. But it is a false constitutionalism, a false statesmanship, to endeavor by the exercise of a perverted ingenuity to seem to give the people full power and at the same time to trick them out of it."

"Yet this is precisely what is done in every case where the state permits its representatives, whether on the bench or in the legislature or in executive office, to declare that it has not the power to right grave social wrongs, or that any of the officers created by the people, or rightfully the servants of the people, can not themselves up to be the masters of the people. Constitution makers should make it clear beyond shadow or doubt that the people in their legislative capacity have the power to enact into law any measure they deem necessary for the betterment of social and industrial conditions."

"I hold that he is the real progressive, that he is the genuine champion of the people, who endeavors to shape the policy alike of the nation and of the several states so as to encourage legitimate and honest business at the same time that he wars against crookedness and injustice and unfairness and tyranny in the business world. This is the reason why I have for so many years insisted as regards our National Government, that it is both futile and mischievous to endeavor to correct the evils of big business by an attempt to restore business conditions as they were in the middle of the last century, before railways and telegraphs had rendered larger business organizations both inevitable and desirable."

"The effort to restore such conditions to that supposed restoration, is as foolish as if we should attempt to arm our troops with the flintlocks of Washington's Continentals instead of with modern weapons of precision. Flintlock legislation, of the kind that seeks to prohibit all combinations, good or bad, is bound to fail, and the effort, in so far as it accomplishes anything at all, merely means that some of the worst combinations are checked."

"What is needed is, first, the recognition that modern business conditions

COLOMBIA NOTIFIES KNOX TO STAY HOME

Secretary Knox Asked to Postpone his Visit to Colombia Until Arrivations Has Been Settled.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Bogota, Colombia, Feb. 21.—The opinion of General Pedro Nel Ospina, Colombian minister to the United States in notifying the state department at Washington, that the visit to Colombia of Secretary of State Knox, would be inappropriate owing to the fact that Colombia's claims in connection with Panama had not yet been arbitrated, has not become known to the general public. The Colombian government has the matter under consideration but either the newspapers are ignorant of the occurrence or else comment has been suppressed by the authorities. A strong sentiment for an honorable settlement of the Panama affair has been gaining ground all over the country without regard to the differences of views of the political parties.

WRECK BURNS AFTER TUNNEL COLLISION

Four Die in Collision in Tunnel and Flames Prevent Rescue for Several Days.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

North Adams, Feb. 21.—A fierce fire and heavy explosion in the debris made it impossible for wrecking crews early today to reach the scene of the collision of a passenger train and a freight train on the Boston and Maine railway inside the Hoosac tunnel and the attempts to get to the burned cars were abandoned until the fire had burned itself out.

The railway officials say it will be impossible to reach the wreckage before Saturday or Sunday.

It is thought the list of dead will not exceed four. Mr. E. H. Matheson, conductor of the freight train, was believed at first to have been killed in the crash. The dead are members of the train crew.

The cause of the collision has not yet been determined. The accident occurred about 2,500 feet inside the western entrance to the tunnel. Large rocks, loosened by the heat, have fallen on the tracks and have made entrance to the tunnel dangerous.

STATE OF ANARCHY BEYOND RIO GRANDE

Conditions Near Mexican Border Cause Much Anxiety at Washington—Raids and Robberies Frequent.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, Feb. 21.—Advises from Mexico to the state department today indicating widespread anarchy south of the Rio Grande, caused much uneasiness in official circles. Several cities and towns are reported to be in the hands of rebels. Protests by Americans against robberies are multiplying without apparent interruption throughout the republic.

It is feared here that all that is needed to plunge Mexico again into civil strife is the appearance of a leader who can harmonize the factions and bring the rebellious elements together. Simulas, Yucatan, and Oaxaca are said to be virtually in a state of open warfare against the Mexican government while from all quarters of Mexico reports of raids by marauding bands continue to increase. Americans in the Chichasen valley in South Mexico have suffered to such an extent from the operations of robber bands that they have made an urgent appeal for aid to the United States government through Consul Alger.

HALL & HUEBEL

DEBATE FOR FRIDAY MAY BE POSTPONED

Misunderstanding on Part of Kenosha Contestants Results in Change of Schedule.
Owing to some misunderstanding on the part of Kenosha high school whereby the members of the debating teams representing it have failed to prepare for the triangular debate which was to have been held Friday evening under the auspices of the Beloit College Interstate debating league, the debate in which the Janesville high school teams were to take part, will undoubtedly be postponed for one or two weeks.
Professor Crawford of Beloit College, head of the league, had announced that the three debates would be held Friday evening, one each in Beloit, Kenosha and Janesville. Until yesterday the Kenosha managers made no complaint, but now they have notified Beloit that they did not intend to enter a triangular contest. They would, however, meet the winner of the Beloit-Janesville event, they stated.
The managers of the Beloit and Janesville teams could not agree to this arrangement and as a result it is probable that Kenosha will either find it necessary to enter the triangular debate or be barred entirely. In this case Janesville and Beloit would be the sole contestants for the honors in the Wisconsin district.

A week at least will undoubtedly be given Kenosha to prepare for the event if they decide to remain in the race. On the other hand, if the honors lie between Beloit and Janesville, more time will be needed by these teams to make changes in the arguments on both sides. The teams have met before and know the arguments in the previous debates. The question will remain the same: "Resolved, That in so far as Illinois and Wisconsin are concerned, women should enjoy equal suffrage with men."

ASSAULTED BY THUG AND FALLS OFF CAR

Brakeman, M. J. Morgan, Receives Bad Wound on Head and Loose Fingers Under Car Wheel.
M. J. Morgan, a Chicago and North-Western brakeman, of Baraboo, was struck a violent blow on the head by an unknown assailant while on top of a moving freight train bound southward through the city. The assault caused him to fall off the car. His right hand struck the rail and two fingers on his right hand were severed by a car wheel. Dr. Woods was summoned to care for him and he was removed to the hospital. Police Officer Sam Brown was at the depot at the time and searched the train and yards for the brakeman's assailant without success. Other officers joined in the hunt later with similar results.

SAYS QUININE WILL NOT BREAK A COLD

How to cure the most severe cold and end all gripe misery in just a few hours.

You will distinctly feel your cold breaking and all the Gripe symptoms leaving after taking the very first dose.

It is a positive fact that Pope's Cold Compound, taken every two hours, until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the Gripe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous, catarrhal and discharge, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pope's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or gripe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine made anywhere else in the world which will cure your cold or end Gripe misery so promptly and without any other name or had after-effects as a 25 cent package of Pope's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

BOXING CONTESTS TO BE UP TO STANDARD

Interest Shown in Coming Exhibition of the Janesville Athletic Club.

Talk of the coming boxing entertainment to be held next Monday evening under the auspices of the Janesville Athletic Club centers on the three big contests of the evening and the appearance of Champion Jack Johnson as referee. The sale of seats proves that the interest shown is widespread and one of the largest audiences that have witnessed a boxing entertainment in Janesville will be present when the sons of the ring go to the ring. That Jack Johnson will be present seems to be an assured fact as he has signed a contract to appear and has also posted a forfeit for non-appearance. As the big black likes money pretty well it is certain he will be present. Then, too, Walter Eckersall, who will referee the preliminary contests, has telephoned the local management that he will bring Johnson with him at noon Monday and that if Pauly McFarland is able to travel after his recent illness, he will come as a spectator.

"Kid De Munn," the little heavy boxer was in the city on Saturday night and stated he is training hard for his go with Spike Kelly and will carry the same with him all the way through. "Kid De Munn" has appeared here before and in Kelly this one of the toughest nuts he has yet attempted to crack. It should prove an interesting affair. Battling Horie of Chicago goes up against Kid McHugh of this city and McHugh is confident he will make a good showing when he comes, having done some careful preliminary work. The contest of the evening will be between Harry Forbes and Jimmy Walsh. Walsh is the English bantam weight that has attracted so much attention; while Forbes is not a beginner at the game and is a clever boxer and shows good head work in contests. Taking it all in all it is a first class card and should please the audience from start to finish.

EASTERN LEAGUE OPENED
SCHEDULE MEETING TODAY.

Arrangement of Playing Dates Main Topic—May Consider Buying Montreal Franchise.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Providence, R. I., Feb. 21.—With reports of all the baseball clubs in the circuit present, the schedule meeting of the International League, formerly known as the Eastern League, began here today. While the gathering of the club owners and managers is primarily to adopt a schedule for next season and the arrangement of the playing dates will be the chief topic, several other matters of more or less importance are expected to come up for discussion. Among other things, it is said, a plan will be proposed and discussed for the league to buy out the Montreal franchise next year, unless the attendance in the Canadian metropolis shows a big improvement in 1912.

CARDINALS TO PLAY
AT MONROE THURSDAY

Contest For Southern Wisconsin Championship—Y. M. C. A. Team Plays Milton College Tonight.

Importance is attached to the basketball contest between the Lakota Cardinals of Janesville and the Monroe Cardinals, which will be held at Monroe tomorrow evening, because it will be for the Southern Wisconsin championship. This is the first game of the season which the local team has played out of the city.

Monroe has been credited with a large number of victories this year and they will be a good match for the local team. The lineup for Janesville will be as follows: Harper, r.f.; Cunningham, l.f.; Henning, c.; Langdon, r.f.; Booth, l.f.

Y. M. C. A. vs. Milton. The Milton College basketball team will be the opponent of the local Y. M. C. A. aggregation in a contest tonight on the former's floor.

Captain Kopp will be back in the game for Janesville and will exert every effort as will his teammates to secure a score in favor of the local players.

The game will be a fast one and although Milton has boasted of several victories, Janesville should capture the trophy. Wilson and Kopp will play the forward positions; McDonald, center; and Mott, Kopp and Brown, guards.

BASEBALL NOTES. Frank Schultze has been spending the winter in Chicago writing poetry about the Cubs.

Coach has it that Manager McGraw, of the Giants, is to give "Bugs" Ray, mound pitcher, a chance.

Holyoke, Mass., will have a team in the Connecticut league next season, taking the place of Waterbury.

It looks as if Dave Jones will have a regular job with the Detroit Tigers, now that Ted Drake has been released.

Pitcher William Yorkton, a brother of Boston's Steve Yorkton, has signed with the Brockton club of the New England league.

J. E. "Gent" Anderson has purchased the Wheeling franchise in the Central League and will act as manager of his team the coming season.

Members of the Jersey City team have been notified to report in Jersey City March 12, and they will sail for Bermuda the following day.

The St. Louis Browns have signed Pitcher Hirt, who is brief in name only. He stands over six feet in height and weighs 185 pounds.

Pitcher "Rube" Nickers says his new tender which he calls the "turkey" will stop the 300 hitters, if the Baltimore police don't suppress it.

Manager Callahan, of the White Sox, and Mike Donlin, of the Boston Braves, will spend a few days at West Haven Springs, Ind., before leaving for the training grounds.

Jack Hockley is still in the game, having signed to play with and manage a semi-pro team in Kansas City. It is said that Jake was a big leaguer when Cy Young's grandfather was a boy.

Manager Harry Arndt, of the South Bend Central league team, has signed 20 pitchers, 5 catchers, 9 infielders, and 8 outfielders. Among the outfielders signed is Jesse Tannehill, the former major league pitcher.

Cap Anson has opened his vaudeville season and will carry his act south with the Cubs. Cap does a monologue and some back and wing dancing, and carries his own scenery which he wears at every performance.

Umpire Bill Brennan should be able to take care of himself if any player starts the rough stuff next season. Bill is spending the winter months touring the country with Mike Gibbons, the new star in the pugilistic world.

THE THEATERS

"EXCUSE ME." In connection with "Excuse Me," the farce which comes to the Myers Theater on Friday February 23, the circumstances of the plot and the execution of the stage manager of the author's design, are responsible for a feature which, while it is not meant to be an advertising feature, might very well be construed as such.

At every performance of "Excuse Me" there is a bracelet tossed into the audience, and as the ornament is an attractive and comparatively valuable one, it can readily be understood that the success of the farce, by Rupert Hughes, in addition to other production expenses is likely to cost Mr. Savage a pretty price for armlets thus thrown away.

All the scenes of "Excuse Me" are laid on an overland limited train bound from Chicago to San Francisco. Among the passengers are a young army lieutenant, the young woman who is to become his wife just as soon as they find a minister who will perform the ceremony, and a young woman who was engaged to the officer before he plighted his troth to his fiancée of the moment.

The erstwhile lunatic wears a bracelet which was the gift of the army officer, presented during his courting days, and the sight of the bracelet arouses the jealousy of the bride-to-be to the point where she refuses to further consider the officer's suit in a favorable light, until by hook or crook, he has managed to obtain possession of that gift and to have removed it forever from the owner's arm and sight. The prospective bridegroom does succeed in gaining possession of the bracelet, and determined to destroy its power of interfering further with his happiness, he raises a window of the sleeping car and tosses it out by the wayside.

The scene shows a cross section of the sleeping car and the window from which the bracelet is thrown being on the side which faces the auditorium of the theatre is of course, an imaginary one, as is also the roadside to which it is thrown. Since the theatre auditorium is what would be the railroad right of way, the bracelet thrown from the window lands among the audience and the one fortunate to catch the bauble is allowed to carry it away.

"THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER." The opera that has won the hearts and the homage of four nations, is none too great a tribute to pay "The Chocolate Soldier" for the beauty of its music united to a libretto of rare dramatic quality have made it the operatic darling of America for three seasons, thereby confirming the judgment of London, Berlin and Vienna, where the opera eclipsed all its rivals. Coming to this city on Friday evening, March 8, at Myers Theater as an established favorite, the success of its appearance is more than a matter of conjecture.

Carl Straus determined to put Shaw to music, the adaptability of the irrepressible Irishman's comedies to the images of light opera was not imagined. In the opinion of critics, Darwin or Plato would have been no more incongruous in a musical setting than Shaw. But these gentlemen reckoned without their hosts. Straus found in the subtle scenes, the paradoxes of romantic encounters and the effortless whimsicalities of "Arms and the Man" an impetus for creating melodies fit for every mood. Every song is a masterpiece of its kind. The balmy sweetness in the rhythms of some is strong contrast to the impudence and drollery of others. He has created new styles of song, and enriched the old with undying masterpieces. To enumerate but a few of these, "Come, Come My Hero," "The Letter Song," "The Tale of a Cat" is to arouse treasured memories in thousands of hearts. In order to do full justice to the elaborate presentation he has made of this gem of Viennese opera, Mr. Whitney has provided a special orchestra of picked musicians. To the uniform excellence of the Whitney Opera Company are added the dramatic gifts of each artist, which are of the highest importance in an opera so rich in dramatic possibilities as "The Chocolate Soldier." The well known prima donna, Miss Frances Hewitt, will be heard in the difficult role of Nadine and Roy Purviance impersonates the Chocolate Soldier with a sweet vocal coating entirely to our taste. A hero, yet less to be feared, Captain Massenkroft than J. Russell Powell gives us, we have not had the pleasure of hearing. Then we have J. P. McLaughlin in the role as the clever Nankah. Others in the support of the company are Lotta Gale, Olive Randolph and George Ogle.

SIGN OF GREATNESS.

In the retirement from the presidency of the provisional government of the Chinese republic to private life Sun Yat Sen, patriot and statesman, has shown a sign of greatness that seldom is discovered in this hurly burly world, and if found out is never given its due reward. China is passing through the preliminary stages of an infant republic. One of the oldest empires on the face of the earth, it has suddenly blossomed out as a sister republic and demands recognition of existence.

Sun Yat Sen, who has just stepped down that his successor, Yuan Shi Kai, may become the nominal head of the organization, federation or whatever they may decide to call their republic, is a careful student of occidental politics and his delving into the principles of government have placed him outside the rank of the agitator and subtle reformer. An exchange comments upon his character as follows:

"His inspiration for this great task has been drawn from great ideas and ideals as found in Confucian and Christian literature and in the history of democracy, especially in its American form. No man has had more influence in bringing the revolution to pass and in procuring for it the loyal support of Chinese without China and scattered throughout the world. He has journeyed amidst perils on all continents and across the seven seas for the sake of his people's liberty with all the moral passion of a Paul or a Wesley. Whenever he speaks hereafter he will have a profound influence.

"But while increasing his influence by his refusal to take the presidency, Sun Yat Sen has decided wisely not to assume power. A man is needed of quite different temperament and experience, with capacity to deal vigorously with the retiring dynasty and Manchurian princes, with native Russian and Japanese diplomats, with viceroys good and viceroys bad, and with the multifarious life of a vast agglomeration of oriental humanity, and steer the course of Chinese democracy toward freedom and dignified assertion of national power. Of the intellectual equipment and the administrative experience of Yuan Shi Kai making him the natural choice for the post of first President there can be no doubt. That he has the requisite moral stamina and the necessary sincere loyalty remains to be demonstrated. There are chapters in his life that are not admirable, judged even by Confucian ethics. If he can rise to the greatness of his task, one of the largest ever entrusted to a man by his fellow men, and if he can use the power put in his hands as splendidly as Sun Yat Sen has used his influence, and with equal disinterestedness, the name of Yuan Shi Kai will live on with those of the great figures of history."

AN ORGANIZATION.

Republicans of Wisconsin who favor the re-nomination of William H. Taft at the coming national republican convention, have organized. They intend to carry the fight to the mass of voters of the state who were not present at the conference in Milwaukee on Monday with hopes that the delegates from Wisconsin may be instructed to work for and vote for the re-nomination of the President.

It was a meeting of earnest men who seek the best interests of the republican party. Men who went to Milwaukee at their own expense to talk over and discuss ways and means of carrying on a fight for what they consider the best interests of the state and nation. They have organized for this purpose and the campaign promises to be an interesting one.

In each congressional district there will be candidates placed in nomination as delegates to the national convention and the names of four men as delegates at large will also go on the ballots at the April election when those delegates will be chosen. Voters are urged to support the men named as Taft delegates.

It is not with a spirit of antagonism to Senator La Follette that this is urged, but with a desire to see the best man possible named as the republican candidate for President. Senator La Follette has ceased to be a national issue. While he remained in the field as a promising candidate, it was no more than right that he should have the support of his home state delegation, but now that his illness has caused him to practically retire from the race it is just and right that his followers should turn to some other candidate, and Taft appears to be the best man available.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH.

Colored Roosevelt in his Columbus speech today has something to say about the ideal conditions that exist in Wisconsin under the progressive leadership of La Follette. It looks like a bit of soft soap on the part of the man whom La Follette accuses of double crossing him, to try and win back his support and that of his followers. If it succeeds then wonders will never cease. Wisconsin men who have opposed La Follette know that he never forgives an injury and never forgets the man who injured it. If Roosevelt thinks to win his support by praise he will probably find himself sadly mistaken. Anyway he holds Wisconsin up as a model state with model laws when the taxpayers begin to realize that this condition is more in the minds of men than in actual existence.

In selecting your candidates for Mayor and Commissioner be sure and do not be blinded by the idea that by casting your vote for a good fellow you are aiding the city good government.

Governor Johnson of California is the latest to desert the La Follette platform for that of Roosevelt. Meanwhile Roosevelt sticks back and enjoys the Wisconsin senator's work of the past years and smiles.

There's one problem that is yet unsolved — the naming of the kid. For no one seems quite suited with the job his parents did. So people wouldn't think they must consider his a snob.

Plain Maud would rather have Lucille or Phyllis for a name; Fair Gladstone would prefer a simple one like Mame. And Susan longs to be Hortense and Kate would be Marie; Virginia would be Sarah and Caprice would Constance be. And Maudie is apt to pose as Marguerite most any day. And Mary changes her's to May, Marie and Mame and Mae.

Elijah doesn't like his name because it sounds so good.

PRESS COMMENT

Should Feel Penalty

Evening Wisconsin: Governor Deussen of Illinois is entitled to credit for refusing to interfere with the course of justice in the case of the five men who were hanged for the crime of murder. The increase of murders in the United States during the past quarter of a century is appalling. One of the causes of it is the laxity of justice. If a murderer has money he can command a crowd of men who usually will find means at first of delaying his trial and later of surrounding him with a halo of romanticism that will blind the jury. No legal technicality is so dispiriting that it has not at some time helped to save a murderer's neck from the rope. Men who break the laws should be made to feel the penalty of the laws. There should be no escape from justice. In Illinois the penalty for murder is death by hanging, and it was a wholesome exhibition of severity which took place at Chicago.

A Bit of Sentiment.

Madison State Journal: After an all day conference, between officials of the railroad and of the steel rail companies of the country concerning improvement in the safety of the present steel rail, the following statement was given out to the public: "It was the sentiment that everything practicable should be adopted to secure a rail entirely safe." We are thankful for the "sentiment." We shall feel better when we read of the next preventable accident. We shall know that the "sentiment" of the railroads was all right. And we shall know that safe rails, and black signals, and steel cars, and all the rest of the safety devices will come in time. After enough of us are dead.

Will Bear Watching.

Evan Chicago Leader: Let all the good men get out for the offices of mayor and commissioner that want 'em. The public will decide who they want on the regular ticket on primary day and on election day will make their final selection. —Janesville Gazette. Yet as we remember it, the Gazette was accused of "having a state" and all that. The people who criticize the average newspaper's position, will more than half the time at least, bear watching themselves.

Always Ambitious.

Edgerton Reporter: Senator La Follette now says the report that he has withdrawn from the presidential race is all a mistake. It was his financial backers and supporters that withdrew and went over to Roosevelt. That was all there was to it. Our job isn't the kind that withdraws when there is an office in sight, never so long as he and Walt Houser survive his flag is still there.

Presumably Innocent. Wabash Record-Herald: It is worthy of note that the socialist newspapers referring to the arrest of the alleged conspirators have more to say about the presumption of innocence than the "frame up," to crush labor.

Other Content Needed. Shelby County Journal: The Outlook magazine believes in a third term. All that is necessary now is to get an O. K. from the 50,000,000 other folks in the United States and the question will be settled.

RIVER FALLS TEACHERS TO VISIT PUEBLO SCHOOLS

President Crabtree Plans to Put Teaching Force in Touch With Real School Work. (SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) River Falls, Wis., Feb. 21.—Seven members of the faculty of the River Falls state normal school have been appointed each to spend a week during the present semester in visiting the public schools. The new president, J. W. Crabtree, and his faculty are using this method of putting the state's school of professional training in touch with the public schools.

Believing that no student should be allowed to remain in the state normal school if he is not getting value received out of his work, President Crabtree has construed value received to mean doing work of making grade in not less than ten hours. The enforcement of the rule has resulted in a few dismissals, but he says the most noticeable result has been the increased application to hard work by students, who heretofore had been more interested in having a good time.

SOUTH DAKOTA GRAIN MEN HOLDING ANNUAL MEETING.

More Than One Thousand Farmers at Convention Which Opened in Mitchell Today. (SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Mitchell, S. D., Feb. 21.—Evidence of the success of the farmers' co-operative movement in this state was furnished by the large and representative attendance at the opening here today of the annual convention of the South Dakota Farmer Grain Dealers' Association. The roll call showed an attendance of more than 1,000 farmers who are interested as stockholders in the co-operative grain elevators. The three days' program calls for a discussion of all phases of the co-operative movement, with addresses by Charles Adkins, speaker of the Illinois house of representatives; E. C. Dunn, of Mason City, Ia., a leading factor in the co-operative work in Iowa, and several other men of prominence.

Society Lull in Metropolis

New York, Feb. 21.—The "Lenten season" was ushered in today with the customary special services in all Catholic and Episcopal churches in observance of Ash Wednesday. The day likewise marked the end of the winter social season in the metropolis. The exodus of society leaders to the warmer climate of the south, or to the resorts of southern Europe, is on in earnest and for forty days at least there will be little doing in the ranks of high society.

Bronchial Troubles Banished By Chiropractic

We quote but one instance of many where Chiropractic has been exceedingly effective in banishing bronchial troubles. This case, name on request, is of a man who had been troubled for over 33 years with a Bronchial Cough. His cough was incessant and painful. After taking one Chiropractic adjustment one week ago, the gentleman reports that he has not had occasion to be bothered with his cough since. Chiropractic is equally effective in getting results with other diseases. It's the logical natural way of eliminating disease starting as it does at the seat of the trouble and removing the cause.

CARRIED REVOLVER; GETS TWENTY DAYS

Robert Courtney Tried on Charge of Carrying Concealed Weapons—Relatives Make Complaint.

Robert Courtney, residing at 503 South River street, was placed under arrest at about eight o'clock this morning, and held for trial on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. Courtney went to one of the hardware stores and bought a revolver and box of cartridges. Although it is not the practice of the store to sell weapons to unidentified persons, Courtney, being recognized as a Janesville man, was sold one. The clerk who sold the weapon, as soon as he found out that the sale might have serious consequences, went in search for Courtney and asked him to give up the revolver. This he refused to do. Officer Patrick Manning was notified, found Courtney, arrested him and took the weapon away from him. Complaint against Courtney was filed later in the day by Mrs. Clara Courtney, his sister-in-law. It is alleged that he has been drinking heavily, that he has made threats to do bodily harm to his relatives, and that their safety demands some action by the court.

The defendant was brought up for trial this afternoon and pleaded guilty to the charge preferred against him. He was sentenced to twenty days' imprisonment in the county jail.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
Paid advertisement; amount paid for each insertion, $1.25.

At the request of many friends I have decided to announce myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor at the primary election to be held March 19, 1912.

It is due the voters and tax payers to know what I stand for, and what I will attempt to add in accomplishing if elected.

First, I believe in a conservative, economical business administration where every dollar expended represents a dollar in value.

Second, I believe in the impartial enforcement of law without fear or favor and that no line of business should be exempt.

Third, I believe that the number of saloons in Janesville makes it necessary for the man engaged in the business to resort to all sorts of devices to make a living. The number should be reduced and the men that are licensed should understand that offenses will not be tolerated. Obey the law or forfeit the license.

Fourth, the city is pained with dives and gambling houses, with slot machines and other devices which ruin our boys and young men. These conditions should not exist and they need not.

I believe that my experiences for the past 35 years with men and affairs, qualifies me to render the city which has long been my home, efficient service. I ask your support at the polls.

JAMES A. FATHERS FILES HIS PETITION

Formally Candidate for Mayor at Primary Election—Democratic Candidates in Fifth Ward.

James A. Fathers, city treasurer, yesterday filed with the city clerk his petition and affidavit as candidate for mayor at the March primaries. But one week remains in which candidates for mayor or commissioner can file the necessary papers, the law requiring that all these must be in the possession of the city clerk twenty days before the day of the primaries. As these come on March 19, Tuesday, February 27, is the last day for filing papers.

City Attorney H. L. Maxfield is the sole opponent of Mr. Fathers at the present time, but there is some possibility that other candidates will enter the race before it is too late.

The campaign for the minor city officers has also begun. William Hemmings will run for school commissioner in the Fourth ward on the democratic ticket, and in the Fifth ward W. E. Dulin will be a candidate for constable and Edward Lathen a candidate for supervisor on the democratic ticket.

J. H. S. TEAM DESIRES STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Janesville Has Fast Quintet Which Will Try for State Championship This Year.

As the season advances the Janesville high school basketball team is wondering whether they will be able to participate in the state meet at Appleton this season for the state championship. So far they have not been defeated and hope to keep up the practice as long as possible. Several strong teams have yet to be met by the local boys and if they are successful in these they will enjoy a fine trip to Appleton on the first of March. On the coming Saturday the Janesville high school has a game booked with the Janesville team and although they will probably return home beaten they expect to put up a hard game and do fighting. The game will take place here and Coach McMurray promises a snappy fight throughout if they come up to his expectations.

HEART AND HOME TALKS
BY BARBARA BOYD

Is Popularity an Unmixed Good?

MIRIAM is the most popular girl in her set," said a young matron. "She certainly is," said another of the crowd of young women who were discussing Miriam. "And she deserves to be. She's adorably pretty, dresses exquisitely, and is so lovable and charming and sunny-tempered, that I don't wonder every one is figuratively at her feet."

"You should have seen the gifts she received Christmas. I couldn't begin to tell you the number of handsome things; and in addition, fifty pounds of candy from those on the fringe of her acquaintance. She could have set up a confectionery shop."

"And it doesn't turn her head a bit, does it?"

"No, it doesn't."

"There's a side to Miriam, however," spoke up another, "that's worth thinking about. It's not sour grapes on my part, for I am very fond of Miriam. But now and then, I see little strands of character, that make me wonder just which way the wind would blow, if sometime a tornado came along. I often wonder if popularity is an unmixed good for a girl."

"When Miriam's father died," this speaker went on, "as we all know, there wasn't quite the fortune the family expected; so Miriam all decided she must do something, and as you are all aware, got that position she has in Blank's big publishing house. All her family and friends thought it awfully plucky of her, and her stock went up higher than ever."

"At Blank's, everybody immediately prostrated themselves before her as elsewhere, and she is the joy and pet of the staff. But she really doesn't work. She merely writes one or two little things a day, and then the rest of the time she disposes unashamedly. Nobody cares. They all like her so much they trot around and do her work, and fairly fight for the privilege. Even the office boys adore her, and count it an event of their lives to get a chance to walk home with her at night. At five o'clock she has tea in her office, and the staff drop in. She has a regular little service down there, and it is quite charming, sort of English, you know. And Blank's is so different from most places, and Miriam is so altogether charming that nothing is said."

"I'm not saying all this in any mean way, but I am just wondering how it will work out. Miriam is lovely and sweet and unselfish, at least that is the way it seems. If any of the other ladies there are blue, the first thing the despondent one knows, a great bunch of violets or sweet peas, or some other flower is laid on her desk. I believe a girl should be just as Miriam is, sweet and charming and thoughtful and altogether adorable, and that every one should worship at her shrine. That's the spirit of girlhood. But—"

The speaker paused for breath.

"Her mother took apartments," she went on, "and is doing the house-keeping, though she never in her life did anything of the kind before. There are a couple of younger children, and so Miriam's mother finds her inexperienced hands rather full. But Miriam is looked upon as the martyr. It is 'Poor Miriam! She has to work' and so when she returns from her office she is waited upon as a queen. They fuss over her and pet her, for her way here is quite as unquestioned as elsewhere. She never does one earthly thing in that house. Every one there feels she must do all she can to make up for the hardship poor Miriam endures at work."

"Miriam doesn't think she is selfish in accepting this. She never thinks about it at all. And I don't know that she is selfish."

"But the thing I am thinking about is, suppose some catastrophe or some test did come, will this sort of life develop the ability to rise above misfortune, or will it weaken her moral fibre, so that she will succumb and take the really selfish or really weak course. I am just wondering."

"It shouldn't. All this, as I have said, by right a girl's. But often a girl lets the fizz and froth go by her head, and so never tastes the real wine of life. Miriam might prove herself the true, fine girl she seems to be."

"It is a danger I hadn't thought about," admitted one of the other women slowly. "It's very easy to drift, and doesn't require much skill. But a girl, no matter how popular, should be taught to realize there are strong currents, and how to handle her boat, if she gets into deep waters."

The Kitchen Cabinet

SIZE is not strength. Reputation is not character. Outward sweetness is not God's gauge.

Not the cry, but the rising of the wild duck signals the flock to follow him in its upward flight.

—Ancient Chinese Saying.

DISHES OF THE ORDINARY.

Variety is the spice of life, and often a change of food, a different manner of serving and garnishing it will awaken a sluggish appetite.

When serving a baked or fried fish, and wish to add a sauce to further the food value and make it more attractive, try:

Green Sauce for Fish.—Make a good rich white sauce, using much rich milk, or better, cream in the making. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add an equal amount of flour and when thoroughly cooked add a cup of rich milk or thin cream. Cook until smooth, add yolk of egg, beaten, and two tablespoonfuls of cooked spinach put through a sieve. Season well with white pepper and salt and fold in a quart of a cup of thick whipped cream just before serving.

Baked Corn With Minced Meat.—Into two large cups of corn put a cupful of minced chicken or ham, one-half cup of thin cream; season with salt, pepper and onion juice, add one egg, beaten. Mix and put into a baking dish, cover with crumbs and bake. Dot with bits of butter and serve.

Combination Salad.—For this salad there is a wide range, as one may use almost any vegetable or fruit. Too many kinds of either fruits or vegetables are not good to serve, or too many colors. A few string beans that have been marinated in a little French dressing and added to potato salad, makes a good combination.

Any little left-overs like corn or bits of green peppers are also an addition to a plain potato salad. One should not forget to add a little shredded onion for flavor to almost every vegetable salad.

A few cut-up dates or figs or raisins added to an apple salad, or in fact almost any fruit salad.

The pineapple is delicious to the taste, a remedy for indigestion and an all-round good fruit tonic. In combination with grape fruit it makes a most delectable salad with French dressing.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

THESE is only one real failure possible and that is not to be true to the best one knows."—Canon Farrar.

"I had a dream the other night," said Molly, the little stenographer lady, possessing herself of the tongue and reconstructing the fire which the want-to-be-cynic had just laid.

"Indeed," said the want-to-be-cynic. "How remarkable. Was it the first time that ever happened?"

"Go on, Molly. Don't mind him," said the author-man. "He's just jealous because you're making the fire burn better than he did. He just makes a fire."

There is a continual rivalry in the family as to who can make the best fire. We all agree that making a good fire is a fine art, but that is all we do agree on. Each of us has his own particular style, and each new arrival considers it his privilege to take the tongue and readjust the logs according to his school of fire-building.

"It was the queerest, most interesting dream," went on Molly, laying down the tongue after having set the top log crosswise—she is of the crosswise school—"that I ever had. I dreamed I was dead."

"That's all right," murmured the want-to-be-cynic, with sterner color. "I know the dream is to be that dream about going back for more chalk."

"I dreamed I was dead," repeated Molly solemnly, ignoring him, "and I went somewhere. I don't know just where." The cynic showed signs of breaking out, but was alone by the author-man. "At first I was all alone in a big room, and then a man in white clothes, like we read about, came up to me. He had a woman with him and she wouldn't tell me, so when I saw the man who brought her to me I ran up to him and asked him again, and this time he said, 'Why haven't you found out yet? She's the girl you might have been. She's going to be your companion everywhere you go.' He said, 'There she is now.' And I looked around and there she was behind me. We were in a room where there was a big mirror, and when I looked around I saw myself to be, and she looked so much sweeter and nicer than I just hated myself and wanted to go away and hide, but when I tried to, she followed right after like a shadow."

"Molly, don't you see?" prompted the author-man.

"And then what?" asked the girl.

"And then I woke up and was glad I was awake," finished Molly.

"And made good resolutions?" suggested the want-to-be-cynic a bit mockingly.

"And made good resolutions," said Molly solemnly.

"I guess it wasn't half so bad a dream for you as it would have been for most of us if we had dreamed it," said the author-man thoughtfully.

"I should say not," agreed the want-to-be-cynic emphatically and not at all mockingly this time.

And the fire stamped out loudly and suddenly as if it also agreed.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Points to be Remembered About Cooking Salt and Smoked Fish.

By Alice D. Whittaker.

As Lent approaches the possibilities of various uses of salt and smoked fish are interesting for they are good and not expensive food. Like many other food materials, salt or otherwise cured fish are spoiled by careless cooking. They are all improved by more or less soaking and must never be cooked in rapidly boiling water for by this method they are made hard and tasteless.

Salt-fish should be soaked overnight in plenty of cold water. If shredded a shorter time and several changes of water will freshen it. Another way is to put the fish in cold water on the back of the range and bring slowly to almost the boiling point. Here the careless cook will cooked rightly. Soak a piece of uniform thickness over night in plenty of cold water. Drain, wipe dry and lay in a butter broiler brushed with melted butter and broil as if it were a piece of steak turning often. It must be cooked slowly and when done should be crisped a little on the outside, lay it on a warm platter and shred with two forks. Butter well and serve with baked potatoes.

Finnan haddock is not sufficiently appreciated. For breakfast nothing is better than one of these fish prepared by boiling water over it and allowing it to stand one minute. Drain and wipe dry on a cloth. Lay the fish in a greased broiler and broil with the flesh side down until almost done then turn and finish. Lay on a warm platter, season with a tablespoon of melted butter mixed with a teaspoon of lemon juice.

Two of these sprays on each of a bureau scarf will make an effective decoration. The dots are worked solid and the flowers and scrolls are first outlined and then filled in with a fagotting stitch. Mercerized cotton No. 38 is used.

make a mistake and allow the water to boil.

Codfish is a commonly used salt fish, salt mackerel is not eaten as much as formerly, smoked haddock and salmon are appetizing and in a white and finnan haddock, a slightly cured fish, is much liked. Several other kinds are sold and nearly all may be cured, made into hushers or fish balls and also broiled after they are freshened.

As a balance in the menu some starchy food must be served like potatoes or rice and a generous measurement of butter because the fish is deficient in starch and butter.

An uncommon way with salt codfish is to soak half a pound over night in plenty of water. Cook a rounding tablespoonful of minced onion in a tablespoon of butter, add the codfish cut in several pieces, turn the cup of cooked rice and two cups of strained canned tomato over the fish. Stir with salt and pepper, cover and cook fifteen minutes. Uncover, add a tablespoon of butter and a few grains of paprika and serve in the same dish.

An old rule for boiled salt mackerel directs to soak the fish over night in a gallon of water. Drain and wring in a piece of cheese cloth and simmer in water for twenty minutes. If the water is allowed to boil rapidly the fish will be unfit to eat. Lift the fish on to a warm platter and pour a cream sauce round.

Broiled codfish is unsurpassed if white frock is built of exquisitely fine materials, and trimmed with real lace, the more simple it is, the better.

Children's frocks are simple but fine.

—as far as distinction is concerned. This dainty dress of the shirred, softest batiste, has a pin tucked waist attached to a slightly gathered hem, a small skirt makes it wash of blue ribbon. The sleeves are set in with hemstitching and a row of the stitches run down the outer side of the sleeve. A small yoke and cuffs of Irish crochet lace complete the dainty effect.

Miccough.

A newspaper quotation claims that relief from hiccough can be obtained by holding the arms straight above the head, and keeping up inspiration as long as possible so as to retain the air in the lungs for a long time.

Attention is called by a professional reader of these hints to the fact, long ago demonstrated, he says, that the monodiet is "contra-indicated" in the experience of hospital feeding—that the sick must have a variety of attractively prepared food, and that therefore the monodiet treatment of the sick is erroneous. This is a heavy conclusion and is contradicted by the several cases reported in these hints, from time to time, of remarkable benefit received by exclusive diet. I have shown that the practice of tempting the appetite of the sick by unnaturally prepared foods, when there is no physiological demand for the food, is injurious, and that the prevailing practice of miscellaneous feeding practiced in sanatoriums and hospitals is fundamentally wrong. In support of this position I need only mention the result recently announced of a long series of experiments conducted by Dr. Henry O. Beson, dietetic editor of Physiological Therapeutics, that constipation is essentially due to excessive mixing of incompatible foods and curable only in the proper sense by removing the cause; also that of Dr. Hoyt of Philadelphia, reported in The Medical Council, in treating "The Riddle of Rheumatism," that the diet "as simple and elemental as possible" not to dwell upon the well known benefits received in certain cases from the milk diet, the flesh diet, the grape diet, and others. "Diet is fundamental in health and disease; it requires the most competent professional skill in its investigation and application to treatment, and it must be admitted that its study and therapeutic application have been too long neglected."

Simply Delicious.

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of The Janet Cooking School Magazine.

In giving this recipe, Mrs. Hill has been to be one of the best all-around cake recipes it has been her good fortune to make. The simplicity and uniformity of results will appeal to every housewife.

K.C. Nut Cake.
One-half cup butter; 1/2 cup granulated sugar; 1/2 cup milk; 2 cups flour; 2 level teaspoonfuls K.C. Baking Powder; 1 cup of nut meats; chopped fine; shells of 4 eggs, beaten dry.

Sift flour and baking powder together, three times. Cream the butter, add the sugar; then alternate the milk and the flour; mix thoroughly; lastly the nuts and the nut meats; make in a sheet in a shallow pan; bake in a moderate oven, about thirty or forty minutes. When cold, cover with the icing and decorate with whole nut meats. This is also an excellent white cake recipe when nuts are omitted.

Chocolate Nut Cake.
One cup granulated sugar; 1/2 cup cocoa; 1/2 cup milk; 1/2 cup butter; 1/2 cup flour; 1/2 cup chocolate; 1/2 cup vanilla extract; 1/2 cup water.

But the sugar, chocolate and water will mix, the cocoa, butter and let boil three minutes. Uncover and let boil till when tested in cold water a soft ball will form; beat into the white of egg, then beat until cold and vanilla. The nut cake is fed given to pure form of the K.C. Cook's Book may be found in place of the chocolate. If desired, a copy of the Cook's Book, handsomely illustrated in 9 colors, will be mailed free if you send the colored certificate packed in 25-cent can of K.C. PIMPY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It—Drive Them Off With Olive Tablets.

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pimples will vanish before you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Nothing ever cleanses the blood, the bowels and the liver like Olive Tablets.

Olive Tablets are the only successful substitute for calomel; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Olive Tablets do all that calomel does, and just as effectively; but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with a dark brown taste, a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimples, for Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Try them. Take one nightly for a week. Then look at your face. It will glow and see how you feel.

Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own.

Physicians Have Great Success With Tonic In This Country.

When people of wealth become debilitated and run down in health they go to high priced sanitariums and health resorts to be built up again. But what about the thousands of debilitated nervous men and women who have the time nor money to spare for such luxuries as sanitariums? If you are in this miserable condition read with care the following statement by M. F. Mann, living at 53 Good Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have had indigestion and been all run down for ten years. I couldn't eat anything at times, and was always constipated. My nerves were out of order and I had bad headaches. I have had a lot of kidney trouble, too, as I had a lot of pain in my back much of the time. I was easily excited and often when I couldn't eat and had a nervous attack I would suffer severe dizzy spells."

"I heard so much about the new tonic, 'Tona Vita' that I decided to give it a trial and I feel like a different man. I am strong in every way. I sleep well, can eat anything and my nerves are as steady as a rock. I have gained four pounds in the last ten days. I believe 'Tona Vita' is the best medicine on earth."

"Tona Vita" was introduced in this country by a number of physicians scarcely a year ago. The tonic has proved the biggest success of any medicine ever before sold to the public.

If you are debilitated and run down don't allow this miserable condition to last a day longer. Let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your health. If it fails your money will be returned by our agent in your city. Smith Drug Co., is the agent for Tona Vita in Janesville. The Approved Pharmacy Company, Dayton, Ohio.

Thought for Today

By MRS. ROBERT M. LAFOLLETTE.

THE VICE PRESIDENT AND MRS. SHERMAN.

IN HIS official capacity of presiding over the Senate, except in the case of a tie, the Vice President has none of the responsibilities of a member of that body. His position is nevertheless of chief interest of the routine proceedings to visitors in the gallery.

The social obligations of the Vice Presidency are greater than those of any other official position in Washington, even than that of the Presidency, for the President and his wife receive no invitations outside the Cabinet circle, but the Vice President and his wife, besides being prominent at most of the White House functions, and besides the generous hospitality of their own home, figure conspicuously as "guests of honor" throughout the social season.

Once a dear friend of mine, who asked how old a certain person was, replied quite unhesitatingly of her fifty birthday. "Oh, she is a young woman, about my age." That is the way I feel about Mrs. Sherman. Our husbands served together in the 60th and 51st Congress. And I remember her well as she was then—a bright, pretty, very girlish looking woman with her own ideas and independent ways. Her interest centered in her young children, and no social obligation interfered with her motherly devotion and careful attention to every domestic duty.

Mrs. Sherman is now a grandmother, her hair is white, but her face is young. Her well proportioned little figure is a bit stouter than twenty years ago, but she moves lightly and carries her head and swishes her skirt with the same youthful charm. She enters into society with joyful spirit, but I venture to guess that her heart is still in her home and children.

Because of Mr. Sherman's long service in the House the Vice President and Mrs. Sherman know everyone. They meet people in the spirit of good fellowship and enjoy wide social popularity.

Scrap Books for Recipes

There has been a considerable call for scrap books in which to preserve the recipes and household hints, appearing daily on the Woman's page of The Gazette and a supply of them are being prepared for those who wish them. Much of value is contained in these various articles and the housewife can save the items which most appeal to her with the Scrap Book made for this purpose.

It can be secured by clipping three of the coupons appearing in the paper daily and presenting them at the office or by sending 2 cents in stamps with the coupon where it is to be for these various articles and the housewife can save the items which most appeal to her with the Scrap Book made for this purpose.

On presentation of three of these coupons clipped on succeeding days from the Daily Gazette, at The Gazette office, a Recipe Coupon Book will be given free. If the book is to be mailed include 2c postage.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

VAGILLATING FRENCH NEWSPAPERS.

By A. W. MACY.

In the year 1814 Napoleon was banished to the island of Elba. In a few months he escaped and returned to France. His return was hailed with great rejoicing by his friends, and greatly regretted by his enemies. The Paris newspapers appear to have been very severe on him at first, but changed their attitude as he drew nearer and nearer the capital.

On March 6 they announced: "The Cannibal has escaped from his den." On the 10th: "The Corsican Ogre has just landed at Cape Juan." On the 11th: "The Tiger has arrived at Genoa." On the 12th: "The Monster passed the night at Grenoble." On the 13th: "The Tyrant has crossed Lyons." On the 14th: "The Usurper is directing his course toward Dijon, but the brave and loyal Burgundians have risen in a body and they surround him on all sides." On the 15th: "Bonaparte is sixty leagues from the capital; he has had skill enough to escape from the hands of his pursuers." On the 16th: "Bonaparte advances rapidly, but he will never enter Paris." On the 17th: "Tomorrow Napoleon will be under our ramparts." On the 18th: "The Emperor is at Fontainebleau." On the 19th: "His Imperial Majesty last evening made his entrance into the Palace of the Tuilleries, amidst the joyous acclamations of an adoring and faithful people."

An Aid to Spotless Bath Tubs

It is easy to keep the bathtub clean and bright, when you know how. A solution of Gold Dust washing powder and warm water will quickly remove every particle of dirt. If any rough places or dark spots appear, these can be easily removed by sprinkling a little Gold Dust washing powder on a cloth and rubbing briskly. The water basin and rubber closet can be kept perfectly bright if thoroughly cleaned with Gold Dust once a week. Gold Dust not only cleans but sterilizes everything with which it comes in contact.

An Aid to Spotless Bath Tubs

It is easy to keep the bathtub clean and bright, when you know how. A solution of Gold Dust washing powder and warm water will quickly remove every particle of dirt. If any rough places or dark spots appear, these can be easily removed by sprinkling a little Gold Dust washing powder on a cloth and rubbing briskly. The water basin and rubber closet can be kept perfectly bright if thoroughly cleaned with Gold Dust once a week. Gold Dust not only cleans but sterilizes everything with which it comes in contact.

VAGILLATING FRENCH NEWSPAPERS.

In the year 1814 Napoleon was banished to the island of Elba. In a few months he escaped and returned to France. His return was hailed with great rejoicing by his friends, and greatly regretted by his enemies. The Paris newspapers appear to have been very severe on him at first, but changed their attitude as he drew nearer and nearer the capital.

A Reasonable Plea For the Stomach

If Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work?

Especially When It Costs Nothing to Try

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach. Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, albumen, ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives. Chemical Laboratory, Telegraphic address, "Difendo," London. Telephone No. 11029 Central. 20 Cullum St., Fenchurch St., E. C.

London, 9th Aug., 1905.

I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself at a city chemist's shop for the purpose), manufactured by P. A. Stuart Co., 86 Clerkenwell Road, London, E. C., and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral poisons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets I am of opinion that they are admirably adapted for the purpose for which they are intended.

(Signed)

John R. Brooke, F. I. C., F. C. S.

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their composition is commonly known among physicians, as is shown by the recommendations of 40,000 licensed physicians in the United States and Canada. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dizziness and kindred diseases originating from improper digestion and assimilation of foods, because they are thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and a powerful remedy, one grain of the powerful principle in these tablets being strong enough (by text) to digest 5,000 grains of meat, eggs and other foods. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

Ask your druggist for a fifty cent box; or send to us direct for a free trial sample package and you will be surprised at the result. P. A. Stuart Co., 160 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

CONFIRMED PROOF

Residents of Janesville Cannot Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved.

In gratitude for complete relief from aches and pains of bad backs—thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Janesville, who so testified years ago, now say their cures were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Janesville kidney sufferers.

Mrs. Joseph Gower, 302 Eastern Ave., Janesville, Wis., says: "The benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills when I used them some years ago has been permanent. I willingly confirm my former endorsement of this remedy. I was afflicted with kidney complaint for several weeks and was feeling miserable in every way when a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I got a supply at the People's Drug Co., and the contents of three boxes sufficed to rid me of my trouble. I never fail to advise a trial of Doan's Kidney Pills when I hear anyone complaining of weak kidneys."

NO CAUSE TO DOUBT

A Statement of Facts Backed by a Strong Guarantee.

We guarantee immediate and positive relief to all sufferers from constipation. In every case where our remedy fails to do this we will return the money paid us for it. That's a frank statement of facts and we want you to substantiate them at our risk. Retail Orderlies are often just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowels, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Retail Orderlies are unsurpassable and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation, and its attendant evils. That's why we back our faith in them with our promise of money back if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three boxes: 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets 26 cents and 80 tablets 50 cents. ALEXIUS BAAS WINS FAVOR AS SOLOIST

Recital Given at St. Mary's Hall Last Evening Pleased Good Audience—Dance Follows Program.

Alexius Baas, the talented Madison baritone, won high commendation and called forth hearty applause last evening by his song and dramatic recital given at St. Mary's hall. His program was varied and well balanced, demonstrating his skill in interpretation and adaptability of voice to dissimilar selections. His voice exhibits not only good native ability but the technique and control acquired only by long training under capable teachers. Mr. Baas has a repertory in six languages—English, German, French, Italian, Spanish and Norwegian. Mrs. Baas gave her husband excellent assistance in the singing of the last numbers:

- 1.—Now I Live in Holst's Glory.
- 2.—Long Ago, Sweetheart, Mine.
- 3.—Why, Lovely Charming.
- 4.—Dainty Dancer.
- 5.—Du bist Wie Eine Blume.
- 6.—Off to Philadelphia.
- 7.—Valencia Song.
- 8.—Irish Love Song.
- 9.—Caro Mio Ben.
- 10.—King of Longfellow. Music by Cole.

Dancing followed the musical program and lasted until midnight, the dance music being played by Prof. W. H. Thiele.

CREDITABLE ACTING BY DALTON COMPANY

"The Devil" Is Best Presented of Any Production Which Has Been Given by Company Here.

Before a full sized audience last evening at the Myers Opera House, the Dalton company, under the management of their stock company outfit, anything they have put on this season when they appeared in the well known play "The Devil." The Devil appears to the audience with all his characteristic open and visible and his diabolical schemes and plans which are so evident in society life are brought out in their true light. A rising young artist falls in love with another man's wife and with great will power they are able to keep away from each other until the Devil appears on the scene. His sinister power over them covers up their good intentions and the play closes with the laugh of the Devil as they are finally persuaded to leave her husband out of the consideration.

Many melodramatic situations appear all through the play and the weird fascinating stage effects leave the spectator clinging to the arms of the seat. Hal Briggs was even better in this play than he has been in any of the others and Miss Dalton was to her usual standard as the wife who falls before the wiles of the Devil. The play throughout though horrible in some ways has a fascination which holds the attention and leaves a vivid lesson in the mind of the spectator.

MASTER BAKERS ARE ENEMIES OF DIRT

Paul Colvin Receives Resolutions Passed at Recent Convention in Memphis.

During the past few years the master bakers' organizations of both Wisconsin and the United States have been most diligently fighting dirt of all kinds. Mr. Paul Colvin of the Colvin Baking company of this city recently attended a conference on the subject of sanitary bakeries held in Madison and is much interested personally in the question. He has received a copy of the resolutions adopted by the National Association of Master Bakers at their convention in Memphis which shows to what end the master bakers mean to go to make their bake shops clean and healthy places. The following is the copy of the resolution:

Whereas: During the past year state and city authorities have taken strong measures in inspecting establishments where bakery goods and other food products are manufactured; and

Whereas: We fully realize the necessity of the confidence of the general public in our goods as essential to the welfare and success of our business;

Therefore, Be It Resolved: That the National Association of Master Bakers commends those officials for their work so far done, but that we are not satisfied with the present state of affairs, and we hereby urge that they find a number of unsanitary bakeries, with out mentioning names, thus casting a stigma on all bakeries.

We strongly urge that as a simple matter of justice the names of all bakeries offending against the laws of decency and cleanliness be published in the newspapers, and be it

Further Resolved: That the National Association of Master Bakers demands that more drastic measures be taken to the end that all unsanitary bakeries be cleaned up or closed.

CROSS, SICK, FEVERISH CHILDREN NEED GENTLE, THOROUGH CASCARETS

Most of the ill of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle, though thorough physic—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless, and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets which act gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though cleanses the little one's system, sweetens the stomach and puts the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.
